-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

Paper No(s)/Mail Date. ____.
- 5) ☐ Notice of Informal Patent Application (PTO-152)
- 6) ☐ Other: ____.

Art Unit: 1745

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term “a lot of cells” in claim 9 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term “a lot of” is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. How many cells must be present in order to be “a lot of cells” is unclear.

Claims 2-5 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 2, before “an excessive state”, and in claim 3, before, “shortage”, the phrase “being in” is suggested. In claim 4, instead of “appropriateness”, “in an appropriate amount” is suggested. In claim 5, “excess” would read better as “excessive”. Appropriate correction is required.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In figures 1, 3 and 7-9, and on page 8, line 23, the term “hydrogen bomb”, which normally refers to a thermonuclear device, is incorrect for the fuel cell art, and appears to be a mistranslation. Is “hydrogen tank” intended? In figure 10, there are two steps numbered “S223”, and no step “S233”, as on page 26, lines 18 and 19. Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 1-8 and 10-13 are allowed. The prior art, cited either below or by applicants, does not disclose a fuel cell system in which the pressure difference between the two reactants is controlled in response to a state of water in the fuel cell stack.

Art Unit: 1745

Claim 9 is would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action. This claim depends on allowable claim 1.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Vartanian et al. (US 5,059,494) discloses a fuel cell in which the pressure difference between the two reactants is controlled during shutdown. Nagamiya et al. (US 6,562,501) disclose a fuel cell in which the humidification is controlled in response to pressure. Nelson et al. (US 2002/0177017) disclose a fuel cell in which the humidity is controlled via a sensor. Kato et al. (US 2002/0142197) disclose a fuel cell in which the pressure of a reaction gas is increased and then decreased in response to residual water. Imamura et al. (US 2002/0150802) disclose the evaporation of water therein is controlled.
